

1.Name of the game – Paper Chase

Number of participants : 3 – 20

Materials : ribbon, markers, pens, drawingpads

Rules of the game:

Children are divided into two groups; those who chase and those who escape. The chasing group starts off 15-30 mins after the escaping group. The objective is to find and solve all the tasks left by the first group. The escaping team wins if the tasks are not solved. The chasing team wins if they catch the escaping team before the escaping team reaches the final point of the race. To be played outdoors.

2.Name of the game – Blind Man's Buff

Numbers of participants : unlimited number

Materials : ribbon or a piece of material

Rules of the game:

One kid is chosen to be the Blind Man's Buff. That kid is blindfolded and stands in the middle of the circle. The remaining participants surround the Blind Man's Buff in a circle. Next they all move around the Blind Man's Buff 3 times and then they disperse and run away. The person who is the Blind Man's Buff catches the next Blind Man's Buff without taking off the blindfold and tries to catch her/his name. This continues until all players are out of the game.

3.Name of the game – Hopscotch

Numbers of participants : 2 or more (several players)

Materials : chalk, a stick, or a pebble

Rules of the game: Draw a shape resembling a mushroom or a boy on the pavement or on the ground. Then divide it into 1-10 sections (9 squares and a circle marked with numbers from one to ten). The child who goes first throws the pebble in square number 1. If s/he aims well s/he may start hopping. Then the kid must hop onto each square with one foot in each or 2 feet on the double square. Upon reaching the “head” the kid should make a jump with a turn and return, while picking up the pebble on her/his way back. Next s/he throws the pebble aiming at the following square and so on. If the player doesn’t throw the stone onto the right square or steps on the line s/he loses her/his turn.
